

Beyond aid – New Paradigms in International Development Cooperation?

At this conference, we will attempt to critically assess German-Tanzanian development cooperation and Germany's former and present Africa policy. Moreover, the question of Tanzania's own strategies for its country's future development will be discussed, as well as the critical analysis and discussion of common concepts that underlie international development cooperation.

Since our Eurocentric perspective, which typically only views countries of the Global North as donor countries, is insufficient - we will broaden that view and also take a glance at Islamic development cooperation and at Tanzania as an essential player in East and Southern Africa.

The aim of the seminar is to develop and discuss future scenarios and gain new and interesting perspectives on the topic.

The seminar is open to everyone.

Tanzania-Network.de e.V.

In the Federal Republic of Germany there are between 800 and 1000 initiatives with connections to Tanzania. Tanzania-Network.de e.V. was founded in 2000 through the initiative of representatives – both Tanzanian and German – of groups and organizations from politics, society and churches. Its aims are the efficient exchange of information and experience, the promotion of regional networking in Germany and Tanzania, the co-ordination of development policy, lobby and advocacy work, the qualified co-operation between groups and institutions and the provision of information through different media and working materials especially in the areas of economic and social justice.
